

My private residence telephone should never be used as a method of advertising, period.